Genetically-engineered Foods

Dear Ms. Henney:

Despite some advantages in GE foods, I am concerned about three issues in the long term future of agriculture:

- 1) Loss of biodiversity in crop plants
- 2) Control of seed supplies by a few powerful corporations.
- 3) Greater dependence on chemicals for GE crops.

At the very least, I hope the FDA will require that all foods containing GE products shall be clearly labeled as such, giving consumers a choice.

Thank you for your attention,

Robert Greenwood
